

American is built on diversity and benefits greatly from it. We need to hear from many voices and sources. Allowing a media monopoly will severely limit the exchange of ideas and perspectives shared by the American people.